DATA PROTECTION PRIVACY STATEMENT

1. Introduction

- 1.1 The Standards Commission for Scotland's (Standards Commission) aim is to help ensure that the highest possible standards are achieved by those appointed or elected to roles within Scottish public life. We do so through our work in promoting the ethical standards framework and adherence to Codes of Conduct, and also through our role in holding Hearings to adjudicate on complaints and impose sanctions on those who fail to meet the expected standards of conduct.
- 1.2 The aim of this Privacy Statement is to give you information about the personal data we collect, why we collect it, how it is used, how long we keep it for and how we keep it safe. We also provide information about your rights in respect of any information we hold about you. We are committed to protecting the privacy and security of any such information.
- 1.3 The Standards Commission is registered as a data controller with the Office of the Information Commissioner.

2. Information we collect and why we collect it

- 2.1 In general terms, we collect and use personal information to fulfil the following functions and associated activities of the Standards Commission:
  - Our statutory functions (including the holding of Hearings)
  - Our work in promoting the Codes of Conduct and ethical standards framework
  - Dealing with and answering enquiries
  - Supporting and managing our employees

Hearings

- 2.2 When we receive a report from the Commissioner for Ethical Standards in Public Life (the CESPLS), a file is made up. The file will normally contain the identity and address of the complainer and the Respondent and of other individuals identified as being involved in the complaint, including any witnesses scheduled to appear at the Hearing, together with any documentary evidence provided or subsequently gathered.
- 2.3 We are permitted, or may be obliged, by law to process personal data. Details of the complaint to be considered at the Hearing, together with other information and documents which relate to it, may be shared with the parties involved in Hearings, being the CESPLS and the Respondent. The Respondent and CESPLS's names will be included in the Hearing Decision and a press release, which are both published on the Standards

Commission's website after the Hearing has concluded and may also be shared on social media. The name of anyone else involved in a Hearing as a complainer, representative or witness will only be included in the Hearing Decision press release if they are a councillor, a Member of the Scottish Parliament, a Member of the United Kingdom Parliament, or a senior officer of the same Council or Devolved Public Body as the Respondent.

Promotion

- 2.4 We may process personal data in order to organise workshops and facilitate and manage training events on the Codes of Conduct and the ethical standards framework. In doing so, we may be required to share the names of attendees with third parties, such as venue providers.

Enquiries

- 2.5 If you contact us by telephone, email, letter or by completing our on-line contact form, we may use your email or postal address and any other information you provide to deal with and respond to your query, comment or request.

Surveys

- 2.6 We use surveys to seek feedback on our Hearings and other work we undertake in order to help identify potential ways of improving the service we provide. We do not process any data included in any response to a survey that could identify an individual. To support this service we use a third party provider, Survey Monkey. Survey Monkey's privacy notice is available on their website www.surveymonkey.com/mp/legal/privacy-policy.

3. The legal basis for our collection and use of your personal data:

- 3.1 We process data in order to comply with our legal obligations. For example, we will retain the name and address of the Respondent and the complainer in order to be able to give them notice of the Hearing and the decision made at it.
- 3.2 We process data necessary for the performance of tasks carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of our official authority. For example, we may process information about individuals who are attending training events in order to be able to contact them.
- 3.3 We process data necessary for the performance of a contract. For example, personal information about employees is kept so that we can pay them.
- 3.4 We will process personal data lawfully, fairly and in a transparent way. We will only process personal information in relation to our responsibilities and duties. It will not be used in any way which is incompatible with these purposes.
- 3.5 We will not transfer your data overseas.

4. How long we retain your personal information

- 4.1 We will keep your personal information for no longer than necessary and in accordance with the Standards Commission's Document Retention Schedule, Folders and Files

Disposal Policy and Disposing of Records Policy. As you will see from these policies we only retain and keep information as long as it is necessary to comply with legal requirements or for any other legitimate business reason.

5. How we keep your information safe

- 5.1 The Scottish Parliamentary Corporate Body (SPCB) provides us with business information technology services under a Service Level Agreement. These services are supplied on the understanding that the Standards Commission complies with all the provisions in the Scottish Parliament's Information Security policies and procedures and its Acceptable Use of IT Policy.
- 5.2 Appropriate measures are taken by the SPCB to ensure personal information is secure and to protect it against unauthorised or unlawful processing, as well as against its accidental loss, destruction or damage.
- 5.3 In addition access to data held by the Standards Commission is controlled through a system of permissions, which means that staff are only given access to folders on a 'need to know' basis. Access to the IT network is provided through the use of passwords, which require to be changed on a regular basis. Any paper files are kept in lockable cabinets.

6. Your rights in relation to your personal data

- 6.1 If we ask you for your consent to hold your data, you have the right to withdraw that consent at any time.
- 6.2 You have the right to ask us about what personal data we hold about you and to be given access to information about that data.
- 6.3 You have the right to object to us processing the personal data that we hold about you.
- 6.4 You have the right to ask us to correct the personal data we hold about you if it is inaccurate or incomplete.
- 6.5 You have the right to request that the personal data we hold about you is erased if there is no compelling reason for us to continue to process it.
- 6.6 Where you have sought to exercise any of your rights in relation to the personal data we hold about you, or you consider that we are processing your data unlawfully, you have the right to ask us to restrict processing.
- 6.7 Requests for information or about these rights should be made in writing and sent to enquiries@standardscommission.org.uk. Responses about your rights will be provided within one month of receipt of the request and where information is provided this is usually supplied free of charge.
