* Note 1: Costs associated with the provision of internal public relations activities have been calculated as follows:

- Total staff costs including employer national insurance and pensions contributions amounted to £207,084.
- During 2022/23 the Standards Commission for Scotland employed 3.11 full time employees, which equates to 666 working days in the year. Therefore, the average daily rate for employees is £311 per day.
- In calculating the estimated cost of staff time in dealing with public relations work the above average daily rate has been used. Some of the work undertaken by the Standards Commission may include an element which falls within the definition of public relations work as contained within the Scottish Government guidance on compliance with the Public Services Reform (Scotland) Act 2010. These activities include the formulation and dissemination of messages about the work and role of the Standards Commission and on issues concerning the ethical standards framework and acceptable behaviour in public life. As it is not possible to identify the exact amount of time spent by staff on public relations work it has been estimated that the average time spent on these activities is two days per month.
- Therefore, the estimated staff costs for conducting and supporting public relations activities during 2022/23 amount to £7,468.
